

As an XM satalitte radio subscriber, I enjoy the use of weather and travel conditions when I need them. I travel a lot and use this service often. You should leave the service alone, the local broadcasters serve a pourpose because there is only a small percent of peoplke with XM at this time. But when you are going down the road and all of a sudden there is stopped traffic, it sure is nice to know about it and find a way around it.
